

INDIVIDUALIZED PLANS

Pursuing an individualized plan for an accelerated bachelor's to graduate program provides students with the opportunity to pair an undergraduate program of study with a graduate program. The resulting program of study is individualized to the student's interests and goals. Such a program is available to highly motivated students with strong performance in undergraduate coursework. Approval is required from the undergraduate adviser, the department chair and the graduate program director.

Students interested in pursuing an individualized accelerated plan should meet with their undergraduate major/minor adviser to review their remaining coursework requirements and explore the alignment of their undergraduate coursework with the coursework of a TU graduate degree program. Information on the screening and enrollment process of an individualized accelerated bachelor's to graduate program can be found on the Accelerated Program's website.
